

Left — Starting out for some real sport—a party of men and girls, members of the Alpine Club of Canada, off to climb famous Mt. Assiniboine.

Right — The giant Cunarder Aquitania (she's an oil burner now) off on her return trip to Europe with a record passenger list and a record crowd at the pier to bid them bon voyage.

ENGLISH AEROPLANE EXPERTS RETURN TO AMERICA

During the war some of the best mechanical experts in Great Britain came over to construct aeroplane engines of the Rolls Royce make. They stayed long enough to like and get used to the "States" and were glad of an opportunity to come back permanently with their families. The average length of service with their company is ten years. The English works are sold up for more than two years ahead and for this and other reasons, these English Experts are here to build that car whose name is a byword for excellence and exclusiveness. A few cars, each one perfection—that is their task. Their handiwork will go to English as well as American patrons.
